BluesFest adds fund-raising CD to lineup From Staff Reports

Performers such as Al Green and Keb' Mo' should be enough to get you out to Bedford's Labor Day BluesFest this weekend. But here's an extra incentive: You can also be the first to pick up a new CD and help a good cause.

The Texas Music Project is releasing a compilation featuring Willie Nelson, the Dixie Chicks, Erykah Badu and other Texans. Proceeds will benefit music education in the state's schools.

The disc, Don't Mess With Texas Music, hits stores next week. But copies will be available for $15 at the festival, and a portion of the sales will go to Bedford public-school music programs.

The festival is Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 11 p.m. at 1613 Hospital Parkway in Bedford. It's free. For a schedule, go to www.bedfordbluesfest.com.
